

April 23, 2010

To Whom It May Concern:

Michelle Ray gave two presentations at our Administrative Professional Day Conference on April 23, 2010. She is a very professional speaker. She discussed her presentations with us and interviewed us to get a feel of who we are and what we wanted her to focus on. This was done in a timely manner and it made us feel comfortable, in that we knew we were on her priority list and that she would follow through with a good presentation.

Her presentation was given with lots of enthusiasm and energy; which kept the audience's interest up. She is intelligent and well informed and uses her intellect to bring home her ideas.

I would recommend Michelle Ray to speak at any type of organization or company.

Sincerely,
