Michelle,

I just want to thank you for your wonderful presentation yesterday.

Not only was I personally moved to action by your presentation, I was really pleased by all the positive feedback that I received from the attendees. This is an annual event and some of the ol' timers have become hyper-critical about the speakers so to receive only praise over my selection was an indicator of just how great you were.

It seemed like you were having some success at the book sales table, another indicator of how well you were received!

Congratulations Michelle and please feel free to add me to your list of satisfied clients. If you have prospects looking for a personal reference, they can contact me anytime.

All the best in 2013.

Alan.
